I am Paul, an 18-year-old college student from the US. I joined the Net Pal Program out of my love to help others and interest in Chinese culture. My Net Pal is a Chinese boy 33 Ping. We have a lot in common. We both love Mickey Mouse and 34 basketball. Ping hopes that he can grow up to be an NBA player someday! Video chatting with Ping has been a great experience. He showed me many wonderful things 35, such as the beautiful red lantern which is hung up high for the Spring Festival. I am going to China during the summer and I will surely visit Ping. I am so excited!

Of all the animals, the chimps are closest to humans. In fact, chimps share as much as 98% of human genetic blueprint. That means humans and chimps shared the same ancestor millions of years ago. Let's take a look at the facts about chimps.

- The adult chimp is around 1.7 meters tall and weighs around 70 kg.
- The chimps can use their strong and long arms to climb on trees.
- The arms of chimps are longer than the legs, so the animals use all two legs and two arms to walk on ground which is often called knuckle-walking.
- The lifetime of chimps is 30 – 35 years around.
- The chimps need sleep up to 9.7 hours each day.
- The chimps cannot swim.
- Chimps have long been known as a kind of an animal that use tools to hunt. For example, they dig out insects with a large stick, which they lick and get the insects glued on.
- They also use stones to break open nuts or use leaves, like sponges, to soak up drinking water.
- Chimpanzees can even be taught to use some basic human sign language.
