因題目較多，我這次擔任審題老師，自行刪減長度、難度與題數。原設計題目如下：

Kathrine Switzer: The Marathon Woman

Among the six members of the World Marathon Majors, making up of marathons in Berlin, Chicago, London, New York, Boston and Tokyo, the Boston Marathon is the oldest city marathon in the world. It 1 for the first time in 1897 and grades as one of the world's best-known road racing. However, running, especially long distances, appeared to be a man's sport then. A 19-year-old university student, Kathrine Switzer, 2, was the first woman to join in the Boston Marathon in 1967.

On the race day, other runners, all of them men, welcomed her, except the race guide Jock Semple, who pushed Switzer out of the race. Luckily, the runners around Switzer helped her continue running and completed her first marathon. By the next morning, the matter was the news headline on the day. 3. She tried harder to open up the path for women to run the Marathon. Finally, not only were women officially welcomed to run the Boston Marathon by 1972, 4 the women's marathon were included in the 1984 Olympics.
